SEAWANHAKA CUP TRIALS LIKE-LY TO PROVE VERY INTERESTING.

Four Well-Known Designers Striving for the Honor of Racing for the Cup -Durbin Horns Purchases the Attaquin-Yachts Building at City Island.

The trial races which are to be held in aka Challenge cup will prove very interesting because of the designers who will be repboats being constructed, each from the boards a designer who has made a distinct mark in the small boat classes. The first one that will be out will be the Mower-Hunt boat, which is building at Bayonne. This boat was started earlier than the others and it is soped that she will be ready for tuning up sails early in May. This will be a great ad-vantage and Messrs. Hunt and Mower will vantage and Messrs. Hunt and Mower wind do all in their power to benefit by it. This beat is being planked and her model is one that gives promise of great speed. C. D. Mower, who designed the yacht, last year turned out the Don, the champion of the 25-foot class and among other fast boats that he built were the Vitesse, Duchess and Heiress that raced in the Macchusetts 25-boat for the syndicate headed by Commodore T. H. Macdonald of the Bridgeport Yacht Club is the best of the Eastern designers. In small boats he has been very successful.

This boat is to be built by William B. Smith of Town River, Quincy Point, Mass., who has urned out some very well constructed boats, notably the Hostess winner of the Quincy cup in 1899. Every possible effort will be made to get the boat out early, so as to get t in fine condition for racing in the trials

"It may be thought strange that Smith, says the Boston Globe, "who built such sub-stantial boats as the Thetis, the Huron, the King Philip and the Alert, should be selected o build a boat whose scantling restrictions are so bulky on paper and so light in ma-terial as is called for under the conditions nich govern the races for the Seawanhaka is abilities in building boats of extremely light construction the reason is apparent.

"Before Smith engaged in building yachts, large or small, he was associated with Rud-dick, a well-known builder of shells-not the kind that is supplied with sails, but of a type that has but ten inches of beam and is propelled only by human force. Being also a shipbuilder he had the advantage then of putting the greatest possible amount of strength into the smallest possible space, and when it came to building ships it was ound that the rule worked both ways and worked practically.

In regard to his prowess as a builder of shells many speak from personal knowledge, having rowed boats of his build, which were as stiff, if not more substantial than many that were some years their junior. For his ability to combine the same knowledge with naval construction no better example can be shown than in the Hostess, a 21-footer with abnormal overhangs.

"This boat was constructed with about the same scantlings that are used in boats that are built for competition for the Seawanhaka cup. She was built for the Quincy cup, and t is, perhaps, interesting to note that while of the boats that were built to race for that cup or that have been built under the principles of those boats, have been supplied with turnbuckle trusses, the Hostess had othing but natural square and diagonal bracings of wood and of the lightest possible And it is also of interest to note her ends up better than any boat with or

*So much for the builder who is to represent Boston and New England in the Seawanhaka trial races, and, perhaps, in the cup races. The builder is spoken of because it well known to racing men and to designers that if the builder cannot carry out the of the designer, and if, in addition, he has not certain well-defined instincts in ingenuity of construction, the boat might just as well never have been built his first attempt at boats of flimsy construc-

"And now for the designer. This is not his first attempt at boats of filmsv construction, although he has, much to his credit, deplored them. Any person who is familiar with the scantling restrictions of the raceabouts, as defined by the knockabout association, will appreciate the amount of headwork that was necessary in producing a boat like the Jolly Roger, which defeated everything of her type in Long Island Sound, including those of Herreshoff design.

While he has been very successful with raceabouts Crowninshield has designed a boat which was lighter in construction; he turned out the lines of the Thelma, which raced for the Quincy cup in 1898. She was much after the style of the Heiress, which made such a strong bid for the cup, with the exception that she was not so powerful, while carrying about the same amount of sail. The Thelma was the cleanest lined boat in the whole outfit at that time, and why she should not have shown up better is a matter of conjecture.

"With his experience in designing boats to conform to different scantling restrictions and the knowledge gained by the work of this Quincy cup challenger he should now be in a position to turn out a boat of the lightest possible construction that will give a good account of herself and be a credit to him and to Boston."

Commodore Macdonald is interested in another syndicate, which has ordered a boat of Jones & La Borde of Osbkosh, Wis Last year the White Bear Yacht Club sent a challenger for race for the cup, and the Western vachtsmen were anxious to try again this year. It is possible that this club will have a representative in the trial races, but in order that the best boat that can be produced might be sent to Canada and that all yachtsmen might be represented in the trial races, the Challenge Committee arranged to have a boat built on the Lakes. This boat should do well because the conditions on Lake St. Louis, where the cup races are to be sailed.

Vice-Commodore Wilson Marshall of the Larchmont Yacht Club and C Barnum Seeley have blace

modore Macdonald, as chairman of the Committee on Cup Challenge, has issued this statement:

"Wooden boards weighted to 450 nounds total weight can be used. Wooden boards covered with iron or other metal plates may be used, but the iron or other metal used must not weigh more than just sufficient to sink the board. There are just three kinds of boards which may be used under the restrictions. First, one of maximum weight of 450 pounds. This must be nade of a steel or iron plate of uniform thickness. It must be a plate and cannot be a combination of steel or iron and wood, or lead or other metal; simply a plate of steel or iron Second, when made of other metal than steel or iron, the same remarks apply except that 200 pounds is the weight limit and $\frac{1}{2}$, inch the thickness limit. Third, a wooden or combination plate or board. This can have only sufficient weight to sink it, no mere."

or combination plate or board. This can have only sufficient weight to sink it, no more.

Durbin Horns, a wealthy Pittsburg merchant, has purchased through Frank N. Tandy the large schooner yacht Attaquin Mr. Horns has a summer home at Province, town, Mass, and is an enthusiastic yachtsman. He is the owner of the 46-footer Bohemian and the 18-foot raceabout Mustang which was built to Mr Tandy's order by Lawley last year. The Attaquin is one of the finest cruising yachts of her inches on the New England coast. She was designed by R. B. Crowninshied and built for Mr. Jones by A. J. Frisbie, at Salem, Mass, in 1898. Her dimensions are: Length over all 94 feet 4 inches; water line length, 70 feet; overhang forward, 11 feet; overhang aft, 13 feet; extreme draft, 3 feet; beam on the load water line; 25 feet; extreme beam, 23 feet 10 inches; displacement, 63 as tons. This yacht was expecially designed for cruising purposes, and was used by her former owner, Mr Jones, the Southern waters, where he went with a large party of friends in the fall of 1898 on a duck shooting excursion. Mr. Horns will use the Attaquin during the coming summer in Massachusetts Bay and when he comes East he will doubtless cruise along the Maine coast for a few weeks. The schoner requires the services of a capitain and six men, including the steward and cook, and will probably be in charge of the skipper who commanded the Bohemian last summer.

At Frank Wood's yard at City Island five beats are being constructed from designs by Tams, Lemoine and Crane. One is a raceabout the summer of the nine bouts. The teams were: Yale, Palmer, Delafield and Spalding: Columbia, Palmer and Picon.

for H. M. Crane, who recently sold the Merrywing. Another is a 30-footer for John R. Suydam for racing on the Great South Bay. This boat is 44 feet 8 inches over all, 25 feet on the water line, 13 feet beam and 3 feet draught. The other three are for the Bar Harbor Club thirty-foot class. They are for Everett Macy. Waiter G. Ladd and W. B. Taylor. These boats are designed to conform to the requirements of the rule of measurement, recently adopted by clubs racing on Long Island Sound.

Five boats are being built by Robert Jacob at City Island for members of the New Rochelle Yacht Club. They are from one design and will be 25 feet over all, 14 feet on the water line, 6 feet 6 inches beam and carry 1,200 pounds of outside ballast.

THE GLENVIEW COURSE.

Further Argument for Choosing It for the Amateur Championship.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN-Sir: May I refer in the kindliest spirit to "a Prominent Player's" remarks in THE SUN of the 15th inst., concerning "Glenview?" The Western men do not wish nor intend to take a narrow view of the matter of the selection of a course for the Amateur Championship. They are not "for Chicago first and golf second," but they are for Glenview because they know that Glenview is a championship course in every sense, and they also know that that fact would need no advertising if the gentlemen in the East who are most active in gol ing matters had ever played over the course. The first nine holes have no water hazards. The course is gently undulating and extremely beautiful. Approximately, the distances of the first nine holes are, 450, 215, 390, 375, 385, 580, 190, 475 and 215 yards. A player enters new ground at every tee, and there is no crossing or retracing, and, with the exception of the ninth hole, there is no paralleling. The turf is magnificent everywhere, not alone on the putting greens, which are like velvet, but throughout the fair green as well, and the player is always assured of a good lie. The putting greens are all very large and arranged so as to give as great a variety as possible in the approaching and putting.

The second nine holes are, approximately, 350 water hazard for second shot, 290 water hazard for tee shot: 300, water hazard for second shot; 460; 180, water hazard for second shot; 460; 180, water hazard; 490; 360; 340, water hazard for tee shot. This part of the course requires the use of every club in the bag. No course in the country presents so great a variety of play or makes more continuous demands upon skill and steadiness. I have played nearly everywhere and am willing to stand by that statement. I feel very sure that Mr. Travis's heart would be warmed if he knew what Glenview holds in reserve for golfers as skilful and steadiness. Some of the most skilful and intelligent gentlemen and professional golfers in the country assisted in the development of the Glenview course, and I believe that the time, the patience and the knowledge expended there have brought forth a golf course which will delight the heart of any man who knows the game and its manifold requirements.

LAWN TENNIS.

J. P. Paret Wins the National Indoor Champlonship After Five Sets With Grant,

The national championship indoor lawn tennis tournament was brought to an end at the Seventh Regiment Armory yesterday afternoon after a long day's play in both singles and doubles. The unfinished match in singles between J. P. Paret and A. S. Cragin was started before 10 o'clock in the morning and the play was continuous from that time until dark. Paret pulled out the last set against Cragin and then beat H. W. Warner rather easily in the semi-final round.

The final match in singles was the feature of the day, and it took the full five sets to decide it. Grant showed all of the wonderful speed and the hurricane service that had beaten both Bostwick and Cragin, two of the championship favorites, and he broke down through unsteadiness very little. In both the second and fourth sets Grant had the lead and Paret just managed to pull both out by deuce scores. The veteran found the usual fast overhand service returned with interest every time by Grant, so he shifted to an underhand out that proved very effective. This bothered Grant a good deal and he seemed unable to handle it successfully. Although badly exhausted in the last set, Paret finally won the match after Grant had lost a lead of two sets to one, 5-3 and 30-love. He succeeds L. E. Ware, J. A. Allen and Holcombe Ward as indoor champion of America.

In the doubles Grant's remarkable speed was again the feature, while LeRoy did splendid, work, for he was the only fresh speed and the hurricane service that had beaten both Bostwick and Cragin, two of

In the doubles Grant's remarkable speed was again the feature, while Lekoy did splendid work, for he was the only fresh one of the four engaged in the finals. Bostwick and Cragin won the indoor championship in doubles last winter, but they were no match for the younger pair yesterday. The scores:

Championship Doubles—First round—O. M. Gostwick and Calboun Cragin beat A. S. Cragin and W. H. Copp, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.
Semi-final Round—O. M. Bostwick and Calboun Cragin beat L. E. Mahan and W. J. McLaughlin, 6-1, 8-6.
Final Round—W. C. Grant and Robert LeRoy beat O. M. Bostwick and Calboun Cragin, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

De La Salte Games. The fourth set of weekly games of the De La Salle Institute Athletic Association was held in the gymnasium and furnished good sport. The entry list was large and the handicap events very keenly contested. In the competition for the point trophy John Thorp has a very decided lead with 34 points. C. Hernandez is second with 23 points. Among the juniors Millet has 19 and Tabernilla is second with 14 points. The summary:

40 Yard Dash-Won by E. Morris, 2 yards: T. horp, scratch, second; C. Hernandez, 2 yards, third. 10 Yard Dash, Junior-Won by D. Meenan, 1 ard; Millet, scratch, second; J. Meenan, 1 yard, bird. third.

Running High Jump, Senior—Won by Keating, Sinches, with a jump of 4 feet 8 inches; Fitzgerald, 10 inches, second, with a jump of 4 feet 6 inches; E. Morris, scratch, third, with a jump of 5 feet. Running High Jump, Junior—Won by A. Millet, scratch, with a jump of 4 feet 2 inches; Tabernilla, second; W. Trainor, third.

The handicap squash tournament of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club was wound up yesterday with an afternoon of the liveliest ort of playing Douglass Campbell won first prize, his opponent in the deciding game being E. W Scott, who won second price. Campbell won in three straight games, two of which were stubbornly contested, while in the other Campbell shut his adversary out. The scores were 15 to 11, 15 to 0 and 15 to 13. Campbell's long reach helped him out not a little, while Scott was off on his out not a little, while Scott was off on his back-hand strokes. Several fine railies marked the contest. Each player had a handicap of 2 points. Dr. E. F. Conckin and S. V. W. Lee, each with a handicap of 3, met for third prize, and the struggle between them was the longest, fastest and most exciting of the tournament. The scores were: 11 to 15, 15 to 8, 15 to 9, 11 to 15 and 15 to 14. Dr. Concklin being the winner. The latter was exhausted after the match. Squash is a somewhat new game to him. He is a strong handball player, but the experts say he is a coming squash player.

SUSPENSION OF MANY JOCKEYS

STEWARDS BELIEVE STEEPLE-CHASES WERE FIXED.

Owners and Trainers Are Also Suspended Pending Investigation - Jockeys Arranged Order of Finish the Night Before Each Race - Results at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22 .- A turf sensation of large proportions was sprung by the stew-ards this afternoon when they suspended twelve steeplechase jockeys and eight owners and trainers. For some time there have been ugly rumors going the rounds that the steeplechase races run here were fixed. The Crescent City Jockey Club immediately put detectives to work to investigate these stories and also to watch the new movements of the jockeys after racing hours.

The result is that the stewards have secure an abundance of evidence to show that the races were fixed up the night before in a house of ill repute and the money given to certain commissioners to bet. "Shoney" Ellison, a Canadian jockey, was the ring leader in the deal, and it was he who started the crooked work. From all accounts the fixed races have been going on since December. and the lockeys and owners who were in on the deals cleared up thousands. This is partly borne out by the general appearance partly borne out by the general appearance of the boys that have been riding here in the steeplechases.

They are all well fixed, have more than the usual amount of money and are able to live at the best hotels and buy wine like millionaires. Those that were in on the deal made it a part of their business to make no mistakes. They always selected a horse that had a fair chance on form to win. The boys riding in the races never permitted any of their mounts to win away off, but drew the finish fine.

This partly killed any suspicions that would arise and both the stewards and the public were deceived for quite a while. There is a lot of talk to-night about some local politicians being mixed up in the crookedness and that the stewards would rule off a number of people on Monday. Judge Reese was seen, but declined to talk. The ruling on the case is as follows:

The riding of the jockeys on the horses and the evidence obtained otherwise warrants the suspension named in order to fix the responsibility and punish the guilty. It appears that Jockey Ellison was the head of the syndicate who apparently fixed the results of the different steeplechase races, and he and the others interested with him laid their plans well in electing the winners. They always choose one that had a reasonable chance to win on form, condition of track and weight, and as long as there was no dissatisfaction among them they cashed. The different steeplechase races declared off from time to time was for a purpose in connection with our suspicions.

"We recommend that the following named jockeys, horses, their owners and trainers be suspended pending investigation of the races in which they have participated at this meeting."

The names of the jockeys are C. Ellison. D. Brazil, A. Hartley, W. Penn. D. Gaddy, A.

The names of the jockeys are C. Ellison, D. Brazil, A. Hartley, W. Penn, D. Gaddy, A. Johnson, A. Hayes, G. Wilson, T. McHusch, J. W. Gormley, R. Slater and M. Weber. The horses affected are Coley, Dagmar, Bristol, MacLaren, Falella, Divertisement, W. H. Dixon and Miss Ransome This will probably end the steeplechasing in this city, as the management is disgusted with the way the races have been run.

The racing at the Fair Grounds this afternoon was first class. It being a legal holiday, a large crowd came out and made things lively in the betting line. The feature was the George Washington Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth. Thirteen horses went to the post, of which Piederich and Banish, the De Witt entry, were the favorites. The winner turned up in Prince Blazes, who won in a desperate drive by half a length from Piederich. The track was in fair shape, but the weather was cloudy and threatening Summaries:

The session was a record-breaker in two ways. It was the tamest ever held since the inception of the association ericks, Vill, Cheney, J. Robinson, Richards, and it took the collegians exactly thirty minutes to gallop through a pile of business Schweitzer, Weeks, Frere, Lawrence, Curt, Robinson, Rosenfeld, Meyer, Koch, Zerega which in previous years consumed hours of debate and anxiety. Out of the great mass A business meeting was held, when the following officers were elected: President, of amendment submitted to the constitution, by-laws and laws of athletics there was a Prof. Isaac L. Rice, New York; First Vice-President, W. E. Scripture, Rome; Second discussion only over one word and this was more on the order of a grammatical fancy than on a technicality. Jameson, Princeton: T. Gerrish, Harvard, and A. B. A. Bradley, Columbia, the treasurer. Other college men attended as spectators.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved Treasurer Bradley came forward with his report. It was highly encouraging, showing the receipts for the past season to be $3,008.11. The liabilities were $300.85, leaving a balance on hand of $2,188.46. The most surprising item was $603.65, the receipts from the annual games last May. Both days there was a miniature deluge and every one calculated that the Intercollegiate Association lost several hundred dollars. As soon as the treasurer's report had been disposed of the report of the Executive Committee, the most important matter in connection with the convention, was then brought forward for treatment. This report covered all the amendments to the constitution, by-laws and laws of athletics. Those of the constitution came first. All were carried without challenge. Article XL, which governs the annual field meeting, was lengthened by the addition of the following:

The field events shall be started on Friday afternoon on that afternoon each man in the weights and broad Jump shall be allowed three trials.

On Saturday afternoon the best five competitors in each field event shall be allowed three trials, and the best four competitors of the two afternoons, three additional trials.

Heretofore it was the custo i each: Jaffe, 1/2 Souweine, 0.

According to the rules the first named six were permitted to enter the final round for possession of the prizes. They were paired as follows: Mathews vs. Lasker, Keidanz vs. Blackmar, Hanham vs. Finn. On the first board Mathews played a queen's pawn opening, Keidanz a king's bishop's opening, while Finn adopted a Sicillan defence. GENERAL TOURNAMENT.

MACKAY RACQUET CHAMPION.

He Lowers the Colors of Quincy A. Shaw

Jr., in Final Round.

BOSTON, Feb. 22—A new champion was made this afternoon when C. H. Mackay, of the New York Racquet and Tennis Club.

The Executive Committee, shall deade by the course previously had the arrangement of the preliminary hears, but the new rendering of the article places all in the hands of the Executive Committee, thus: He Lowers the Colors of Quincy A. Shaw A A, in the final round of the annual tourna-ment for the Amateur Racquet Championship the different position.

The part of the handbook which relates to the laws of athletics was completely turned topsy-turvy. Article I, in the new book will be as follows:

The officers of an athletic meeting small be one referre, four inspectors to assist referre, one scorer, five assistant scorers, one clerk of the course, five assistant clerks of the course, one reporter, one announcer, with assistants if necessary. Por track events, four judges at the finish, three time keepers, one starter. For field events, eight field judges or measurers.

A. Benjamin Higherton Course of the new book will be as follows:

Nautilus Gotham. Put Manuel Course one scorer, one clerk of the course, five assistant scorers, one starter. For field events, eight field judges or measurers.

one starter. For held events, eight field judges or measurers.

A little variation has been introduced in the rules governing the duties of scorer and clerk of the course, but the most striking change occurs in Article VIII. Instead of six measurers there shall be eight, that is two for the hammer throwing and shot putting, two for the high jump and two for the broad jump and two for the pole vault. Article XI., under which heading comes all matters of protests, is a trifle more explicit.

Verbal protests may be made at or before any seemed to the spectators, who crowded the gallery of the court in the Boston A. A. club house to the very doors, that Shaw would win in one, two, three order. He scored ace after ace on his remarkable service, running out the game by the score of 15-2. Mackay could not seem to fathom Shaw's service, while the champion had no difficulty with the New Yorker.

In the second game quite the reverse occurred. Mackay won a brilliant game by a score of 15-12. He seemed to be coming all the time, while Shaw was not so brilliant as in the first game. Mackay altered his style completely, serving slower and playing a slower game all through. This puzzled the Bostonian, who plays a hard fast game. Shaw fell down time and again on seemingly easy ones.

The third game was even easier for the New Yorker who won 15-7. Condition began to tell and Mackay was the fresher of the two and apparently in better shape. Shaw seemed to tire, while Mackay kept up his gait. The game put up by the old and new champions was as brilliant as has ever been seen in this city and the large gallery appreciated it to the utmost.

The fourth and last game was fatubornly contested and was replete with remarkable rallies and beautiful plays. Mackay won by a score of 15-11 and takes the champion-hip title back to New York with him.

A professional match between David Gardner of the New York Racquet and Tennis Club and Fritz Glockier of the Boston A. A., was played afterward. Gardner proved too fast for the Boston man and won by the scores of 15-3, 8-15, 15-6 and 15-3.

In every event a gold niedal shall be awarded to first, a sliver to second and a bronze to third in the event of a tie and the inability to agree upon a method of award, the medals shall be awarded as the referee shall deedde. as the referee shall decide.

It was unanimously decided that colleges which had three starters in last year's championship be presented with a dividend of $10. The election of officers for 1902 was then proceeded with and resulted as fol-

All signs have pointed during the last two months to the Clyde Park links as the scene of this important event this season, and it was generally conceded that Brookline would get the event. No reasons for the action of the club have been advanced.

CLUBS STICK TO A. G. SPALDING

HIS RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED AT PITTSBURG CONFERENCE.

Spalding Baseball Four" Say They Are Still Opposed to "Freedmanism" and "Brushism" - Will Abide by Decision of the Court Regarding the Election

PITTSBURG, Feb. 22.—The representatives of the four "Spalding" baseball clubs held a conference lasting several hours this afternoon and evening, and after adjourning the following statement was given out: A conference was held between representatives of the Pittsburg Athletic Company, Chicago League ball club, Brooklyn ball club and Philadelphia ball club, members of the National League and American Association of Professional Baseball

Clubs.

A letter dated Point Noma, Cal., Feb. 14, 1902, from A. G. Spalding was received tendering his resignation of the Presidency of the League if in the judgment of the four clubs it should be deemed wise to accept it. After a full interchange of views it was unanimously resolved:

cept it. After a full interchange of views it was unanimously resolved:

That we disapprove of such resignation and respectfully return it to Mr. Spalding that his nomination and election to such Presidency was in support of the principle, which principle is the eradication from League councils of the unfair, unjust and unsportsmanlike methods which have marred its action in the past. In other words, the elimination of what is known as "Brushism" and "Freedmanism": without any antagonism to the personalities of Messrs. Brush and Freedman, who were and are the authors and exponents of the said "isms."

Resolved, That we know of no reason why we should abandon that policy, and we believe that Mr. Spalding is the ideal and practical leader to enforce it.

Resolved, That inasmuch as the question as to the validity of his election to the office of said Presidency is now pending in the Supreme Court of New York, and as arguments by counsel pro and con on that subject will be inade during the first week of next month, that it would be unwise and impolitic for us to make any further declaration at present other than that we will abide by the decision of the court, and will join in the convening of a meeting of the eight clubs of the National League, and will join in the convening of a meeting of the eight clubs of the National League, either in recognition of A. G. Spalding as President thereof, or in the event of an adverse decision of the court, for the purpose of filling the vacancy thus declared to exist in that office in accordance with the constitution of the said League and with the rules of parliamentary law.
